well, it doesn't look as though i'll be taking possession of the child. the state of vermont refuses to let her leave the state.

i have mixed feelings about this: i wanted to help my friend out, but doing this would seriously hamper my job hunt. on the other hand i don't like seeing a newborn taken away from her mother and put in foster care with who knows who.

just when things are looking up - WHAM - in comes real life to give you a clue (or two) i'll find out later on wednesday whether or not i'm taking custody of a new born baby.

the city where my friend and his wife live want to take the baby away - ostensibly because of the mother's instability.

hell - she'll be even more unstable if they take away her first and only child!

so they are going to propose that she (the baby) come here, instead of go into foster care where they are.

they named her middle name after me. and i'm the godmother there is a kind of happiness you only feel when you hear words you've wanted to hear for years - and didn't even know it all that time.

in knowing that not all illusions are false - sometimes you simply need to open your eyes a little wider to see the truth of them.

do we all have a fate in life? a purpose? a reason for existing in the first place? it seems now is the time for me to find out - i have spent to many years in hopelessness for all things.

i look back at who i was a realize that i have yet to discover who i AM.

Color Quiz

[26 Aug 2004|06:04pm]

you are darkslategray #2F4F4F
Your dominant hues are green and blue. You're smart and you know it, and want to use your power to help people and relate to others. Even though you tend to battle with yourself, you solve other people's conflicts well. Your saturation level is lower than average - You don't stress out over things and don't understand people who do. Finishing projects may sometimes be a challenge, but you schedule time as you see fit and the important things all happen in the end, even if not everyone sees your grand master plan. Your outlook on life is dark. You're generally a pessimist and everyone knows it; you're the one the come to when they don't want the sunshine blown around, they just want to straight truth. You can miss good things in life if you make up your mind too early though.

10 things i hate about guys (updated)

[22 Aug 2004|04:12am]

[mood]  bitchy]

.... an incomplete listing:

1. when they ask for money because of threat of torture and death

2. when they ask for money after promising they'll return it (they've changed their ways - really)
3. when they ask for money - (and actually prosper from it, as opposed to the above to examples) - but then has no time for you
4. when they ask money and promise to pay you back (yeah right - haven't seen a dime yet)
5. when they mutter their sweet loving words to you - but the actions don't follow - remember that actions speak MUCH louder than words guys
6. when you take them out for a nice dinner - then they get too drunk to be useful for anything
7. when you make plans and they flake out at the last minute oh - have i mentioned - i'm hating guys right now?

any cute girls out there interested? :-) (i like them a lot too)

european vacation

[19 Oct 2003|06:01pm]

well.... i was planning on doing a nifty journal of my trip to london and paris - but i got so caught up with simply being there that i didn't really have time to journal it.

london was interesting (but not as nice as paris) - good food (indian curry places everywhere). it was also overpriced and dirty (they've removed the waste bins from the sidewalks so the IRA doesn't put bombs in them - as a result the city is quite dirty). i met a few interesting people - had a good time hanging out with my friend goo paris was much more fun - but it rained almost the whole time i was there (just like last time). but i did get to see the trees with leaves on them and flowers and the fountains going (last year i went in december so none of the fountains were on).

when i got back from this trip i took a quick 4 day trip to Los Angeles with my family to see my extended family.

the night before i left for that trip i got the opportunity to see Edward Kaspell of the Legendary Pink Dots play for FREE at a downtown bar - experience of a life time - super cool beyond the kitty crap, guess what!??

i'm going to europe again!!

this time i'll be seeing london, dublin and paris.... and wherever we can get our little butts to during the 2 week time frame.

if any of you out there have ideas of great places to go and see, give me some input. i'm really into the sort of 'far out' notions of england (ley lines, haunted places, stone henge... i have a subscription to 'fortean times') and my girl friend is interested in the modern things (cute morrisey-like guys on scooters, getting smashed, etc... she's never heard of 'f.t.').

love... pain

[23 Jun 2003|05:34am]

does anyone really know what love is?

are pain and love the same?

often when i feel loved i feel pain.

often when i feel pain i feel loved.

it is sometimes very difficult to separate the two.

perhaps i simply seek out those loves in my life who will provide a little pain.

and perhaps i am wrong.

i know NOW whom i love - and whom provides the pain.

and to you that i love... i miss you.

feminist?

[23 May 2003|03:12am]

[music|Remy Zero - Glorious #1]

last week a couple of girls in the bathroom of a nightclub asked me if i was a feminist - and how did i define that?

damn, what a question - something i'd never really thought about before - i simply am what i am being born after the big important parts of the feminist movement

i was born the year abortion was legalized being the child of hippies being named after a woman friend of my parents who bucked the narrow beliefs of the day and became a car mechanic being a girl no one ever told 'you can't do that because you're a girl' being told 'you can do whatever you set your mind to'

of course i'm a feminist!

how can i not be? i am female - therefore i believe in the power of women but am i man hater? do i see all penises as weapons? all men as rapists? all women as victims? pornography as exploitation?

NO - i'm not that brand of feminist - i refuse to give up my own power and control it's my body - my choice - and mine to make mistakes with no man tells me what is right, wrong, good or bad - am i a shrewish kate?

i will compromise (and occasionally give in) - but only when i want to - not because i am told to

[music|Moby - The Rafters]

Conscious self	Overall self

Calm, confident, and strong, 8w9s portray a robust serenity. They make protective parents and supportive friends. They are unpretentious and dry in wit. Their anger is explosive though, and they can act with callous indifference towards others.	You are an introverted non conformist and tend to be very indecisive. You go with what feels right and are more prone to anger than fear. You have low self control. You tend to be unfocused and messy. You are very skeptical.
